SPACE - ONE YEAR ON

This week space in Brackley celebrates its first birthday. One year on and the original “pop-up” shop continues to thrive and offers a blank canvas in which to launch a product, exhibit artwork, or use as a short term retail venue.

Since throwing open its doors in July 2008 space has been used to: launch a global atlas; display Formula 1 photography; a career retrospective of a noted local designer; and various retail events.

Peter Rawlinson, owner of space, said:

“We are really pleased to have our first year under our belts and we are looking forward to the year ahead with some very exciting events being booked. From artists to motorcycles we have a range of exhibits planned which will appeal to a variety of audiences, both local and national.

“Already we have an established group of regular visitors and this year we would like to see this group grow. We also hope to support the town further by continuing to take part in existing events and festivals this year.”

Forthcoming events at space include:

6 – 11 Jul “made locally” week – a showcase for Brackley and local businesses
25 July A history of Brewing in Brackley (to coincide with the Brackley Beer Festival)
